SENIOR
HIGH SCHOOL

Hail! Alma mater,
Mother great and true.
Hail! Ambridge High School,
We sing praise to you.
When'er our heroes
Strive and banners fly,
To Ambridge High, we will
Pledge our Loyalty,
Throughout all eternity.
Garnet and gray,
The banner that we love.
True to your colors
We shall ever be.
Strong, firm, united
In conflict are we.
In Ambridge High, as we
March in bold array,
'Neath garnet and the gray.

IN APPRECIATION

of Dr. Michael F. Serene

To you, Dr. Serene, who was our principal, friend, instructor, and advisor in the development of our better selves, we express our deep gratitude. Your generous guidance and understanding help have enriched our high school lives. Through your encouragement we have strived for success in maintaining high scholastic standards.

To keep alive our precious memories and intimate friendships, we dedicate this book in your honor.

DR. SERENE, Professor of Biology, California State College, California, Pennsylvania. Dr. Michael Serene taught biology, chemistry, and physics from 1938 until 1943 at Ambridge High School, and later served in the capacity of principal until September 1960.

Administration

Co-ordinators, expediters, middle-men: are the fellows who follow through administrative directives. At times our administrators must feel like the agitated chap who jumped on his horse and rode off in all directions; "busy" is the word for them; "efficient" is an applicable term that fits them too!

Have you had a headache lately? How often have you visited the nurses' office? Well, your headache is trivial compared to that of those who administer their soothing "potents". Athletic examinations, X-ray and dental examinations, patch testing, first-aid, community programs, home visits, health counselling and many other activities are the daily routine of those who share our responsibilities.

Probably you've never been stampeded. If someone yelled, "Fire!" it couldn't be any worse. Those who serve us in the cafeteria are constantly trying to meet the demands of hungry people. Sure, we complain, but we love it.

People must eat. It looks good and is nutritious, too.

Buddy,
To a real sharp and sweet boy I had the pleasure of meeting this year. Never forget the first time you walked me home because I was scared of those boys whom I thought were drunk. I don't even want to remember that silly fight over that game. What is past is past we can remain the best of friends always. Good luck and may God Bless You.

STUDENTS of the Secretarial Practice Club busily pound their typewriters even when not in regular class session. They are busy preparing for a profession, business, trade or industry.

Business Practitioners

PEGGY BUDRIS and SHIRLEY SALIGA, office secretaries, prove that membership in the Secretarial Practice Club pays off.

SHORTLY after alighting from the busses, the students, guided by the building patrol, move throughout the building.

IN a few minutes they will be going up or down. There is always a patrolman to keep order.

Traffic Managers

"STAY in line and don't push." How often have you heard these words while passing to or from class? At every stairway there is a devoted student to help or guide. Mr. Kokoski has done a superb job in training the members of our building patrol.

SHORTLY after dismissal, the students board the busses in an orderly manner.

"NOW presenting the Ambridge High School Varsity Marching Band." These are the opening words of the football half-time show. Then comes the strutting majorettes and the band members in three parallel lines. On to the field they go to perform their precision drills of intricate formations and dances. In stormy weather or clear they move on, parading before many.

Their annual spring concert is a source of delightful harmony, and the people of Ambridge go away both thrilled and awed by the splendid performance. The band, directed by Mr. Sporny, also plays for graduation and pep assemblies and is responsible for the music for many other school events.

Repertoire and Polished Style

"GOD rest ye mer-ry gen-tle-men" . . . Strains from "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and from our beloved "Alma Mater" can never be forgotten by the students, nor by the many civic organizations for whom the Madrigal sang. Their varied repertoire, performed to perfection, come from strenous practice everyday.

"There'll be a drowning party tonight!" was Miss Rice's dire threat to a bass who was offkey or the soprano who had cheered too much at the ball game. If this didn't bring quick results, Miss Rice spent hours working with individual voices.

THE Junior Madrigal group.

Intermediate Choir Groups

THE JUNIOR HIGH Chorus, is a group of ninety-eight boys and girls from the eighth and ninth grade vocal music classes who study and sing part music.

They are saluted because of their ability to strive for perfection in their vocal classes which meet two periods per week.

The Christmas Concert is their first opportunity to sing together and to sing for public performance.

The chorus is under the direction of Miss Ruth Troll.

THE Junior Madrigal group.

Bring Out Musical Tendencies

THE best memories of the Sophomore Chorus are those shared by its members as a team . . . the strenuous practicing, the performance that sounded so right that even Miss Lesnick bragged, and the singing together at the final concert.

On March 3, Miss Lesnick's Sophomore Chorus joined the Junior and Senior Madrigal groups and presented their annual spring vocal concert in the Senior High School auditorium. The rehearsal for this program, with students numbering in the hundreds, began shortly after Christmas.

THE most beautiful Christmas tree in many years which was presented by the Student Council.

And Democracy

THE MEETING COMES to order and President Kisiday calls an assembly of thought.

A subject is brought up by Elaine Vernon, secretary, and controversy follows among the members.

A vote is taken and the motion passed. Another needed plan will go into effect for the betterment of the school.

This is your Student Council in action, always ready, willing, and able to listen to the problems of the student body and try to accomodate them.

With an eye to the future the Student Council has many projects in mind for the betterment of the student body. Their most important project this year was the sponsorship of the Mistletoe Ball during the Christmas holidays.

Steve,
I'm a very sleepy but nice boy in my science class although I don't know you very well you seem like a very nice guy.

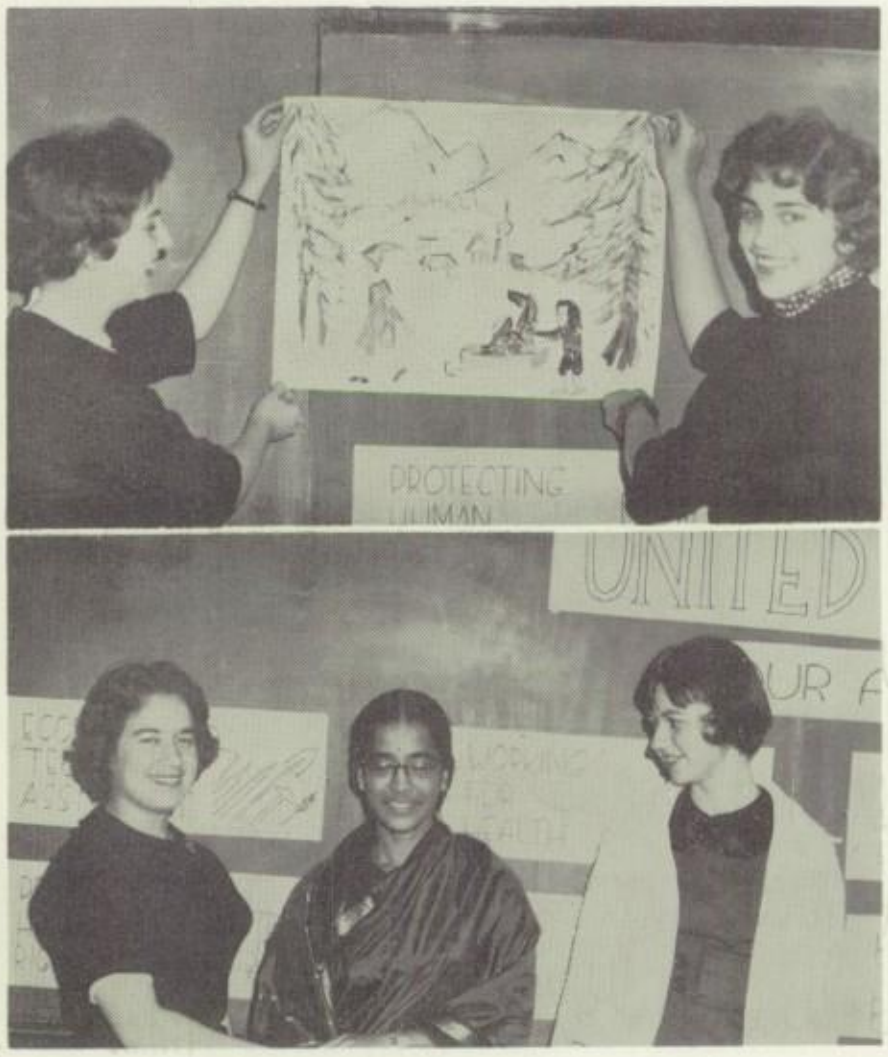
Honor For the Future

THE National Honor Society, a select group of juniors and seniors, is an honorary organization of students chosen for their high qualifications of character, scholarship, service, and leadership. To be chosen for this group is an honor that is bestowed upon only five per cent of the Junior Class and ten per cent of the Senior Class. Although they have very few outside activities as a group; they, as individuals, are among the busiest students in the school. The N.H.S. members usually run a concession stand at all the home football games. The proceeds of this stand go toward scholarships for the seniors.



THE Historical Society has an active interest in the affairs of the United Nations.

A FEW characters from history portrayed by new members of the Historical Society.

Preservers of the Past

"THERE goes Julius Caesar!" comments one of the students as he views the parade of new Historical Society members on initiation day. Each member portraying a different famous person from the past makes an interesting spectacle in our halls and classrooms. Of course, participating in this program does not make one a member. Students who are accepted must excel in the study of history and possess the qualities of good character, leadership, and cooperativeness.

Stage Lighting Squad

HAVE you ever wondered about how the special lighting effects are achieved during special programs in the auditorium? Mr. Hertnecky and his boys are specialists in this field. Sound is also a specialty for this group, as perhaps you've noticed when hearing someone speak from the stage over the microphone.

THERE are numerous machines used to aid us in our learning in the classroom. Machines are fine, but someone has to run them and repair them. This is the task for this technically inclined group.

Audio Visual Aids

"THOSE pictures surely point out vivid stories," is the comment frequently heard around the various bulletin boards in the school.

THESE few girls do a very fine job of keeping the students informed as to what is going on around our school.

Bulletin Board Committee

WERE YOU in school today? The office knows because of the efficient work of the attendance checkers. This group keeps the attendance humming on snowy days when there are many absentees.

Attendance Checkers

Finance Committee

"STEP OVER here to buy your ticket," is a familiar phrase to anyone coming to a paid event. This is the Finance Committee at work. These twenty-six senior high girls give up many evenings to make our paid performances successful. They collect and sell tickets for football games, plays, and all of the other numerous paid school functions.

"TWO COKES here; I want potato chips," they yelled. The concessioner is constantly bombarded with these immortal words.This group not only misses the football games but also is kept extremely busy in the cold football weather.

Concessions Committee

"TWO PROGRAMS, please," one girl requested of a teeth-chattering member of the Program Sales Committee. This job requires the ability to withstand cold weather. However, it can be much fun.

Program Sales Committee

"THIS way please," an usherette requests. Many thousands of people each year are guided to their seats by this group.

Usherettes

Fencing Club

"TOUCHE," says Mr. Carter, "You've been stabbed." This means that the Fencing Club is practicing again. With this, a new pair come out and it starts all over again.

MUCH of the joy derived from Saturday night dances by the students of our school can be credited to the efforts of this committee. They do all the planning and preparation for each affair.

Canteen Committee

"CHECK," and the Chess Club members learn something new. This game is fun once it is learned and appreciated by those who play it. That's what the Chess Club aims for.

Chess Club

"PUSH 'em back, push 'em back, way back is the cheer." The members of the Junior High Cheerleaders back their team all the way. Next year two of these girls will probably be rooting just as hard, but then they will belong to Senior High.

Varsity Cheerleaders

AS OUR team fights for victory, we are led in a cheer by the cheerleaders. These girls do their part in keeping sports an activity we can be proud of. They may be at a pep assembly or the important game we have to win; but wherever they are, they keep our team's spirit high.

Morale Builders

"HIT 'EM again harder, harder," and "Center the ball, pivot, dribble down the floor, shoot it in the basket, score, score, score," are just two of the many signs put up by the Booster Club the afternoon before a game. All of this is done on the members' own time. No special clean-up is needed because the student body itself takes care of removing the signs. This activity is more than a little work. It offers fun and a feeling of belonging.

OUR FUTURE drivers would be better drivers if they all took Mr. Chapala's Auto-driving course. Those who are taking it will probably live longer on our nation's highways.

Safe Drivers

THIS group is known more commonly as the Stamp Club. The boys write to many people in foreign countries and of course collect and trade stamps.

Philatelists

Junior Red Cross

THE JUNIOR Red Cross practices first aid on each other. Sometimes they are tied up in "knots," but they learn how to be better persons.

Gym Aids

MRS. PALMER blows her whistle, and the squad leaders hurry to check their rolls. After they have reported all absentees to the attendance checkers, they start recording the scores of the many skill tests taken by the members of their respective squads.

Boys' Patrol

THESE boys are at the crosswalks after school to protect you. They open the doors during fire drills and keep things going at a smooth pace.

"THAT'S better, only louder," continues Mr. Barner. The Senior Thespians are almost ready for the Senior Class Play. This group works hard to make the play the best ever in Ambridge.

Senior Thespians

MANY students will fill the requirements for Thespian membership in their junior year. Some are people who have acted in their first play. Some work behind stage, while others qualify by assisting with actual play production.

Junior Thespians

Yearbook Advertising Staff

EVERYONE wants to advertise his product. This works two ways with the advertising staff. Merchants gain new accounts and the Bridger sells for less than cost to the students of our high school.

Yearbook Representatives

A SUCCESSFUL yearbook depends much on the tireless efforts of the students who represent the homerooms. They collect money, issue receipts, and keep the records of each purchase of the yearbook.

Leaders' Club

"ARE you properly attired for gym inspection?" This inquiry is frequently made by the members of the Leaders' Club. Much of the success of our gym program is dependent upon the cooperative efforts of this group.

Only students of athletic ability, good character, and high scholastic standards are considered for membership in this club. Since it is necessary for Miss Yost to meet a great number of students daily, the Leaders' Club members help is indispensable.

A. A. J. C. C.

THE Ambridge Association of Junior Curriculum Club is interested in helping Dr. Benkert improve curriculum for our high school. We have already seen some of the results.

Silhouette Editors

JUDGING from the articles which appear in the monthly Silhouette, its editors are probably continually on the alert. They do a good job with the stories reported.

Silhouette Reporters

THE STORIES appearing in the Silhouette are written by this group. It takes much time and effort to track down the news details and to write good articles.

Silhouette Carriers

ONCE a month it seems as though all the newspaper boys of the community have invaded our school. These are the people who distribute the Beaver County Times to the homerooms in our school.

Art Department

WHETHER it be the form of a building, an advertisement layout, a costume design, or a painting, the art classes of our school are ready to express the art elements which are expounded upon in textbooks. Throughout the building there are numerous examples of these elements. No doubt you have seen the excellent room and hall murals . . . products of our art students. Once each year there is an art display in the library for the purpose of exhibiting the work of students who excel in this field. Many of these outstanding art works are displayed in competition with outsiders for prizes.

CURRICULUM OF DEPARTMENT TRAINS STUDENTS IN COMMUNICATING IDEAS.

NO matter what your purpose is in writing or speaking—to tell about something that happened, to explain how to do something, to persuade others to think as you do, or simply to entertain your audience—your chief concern is to make your ideas clear. It is not enough for you to know what you mean; your job is to make your meaning clear. This is the task faced by our efficient English teachers. Whether your ambition is to be a teacher, doctor, executive, lawyer, engineer or office worker the objective is the same for all in this department—to expose you to the influence of others who have successfully communicated their ideas, and to impart the necessary English for you to communicate your own ideas.

STRIVING TO OPEN THE DOOR TO BETTER LIVING.

HOMEMAKING is an art, a profession, and a business for every girl and woman. Hostesses in restaurants, on airplanes, and in children's homes need to know homemaking skills. Dietitians in hospitals, schools, and campus enjoy working with foods. Fashion designers and store buyers must be well groomed and know about clothing. Manufacturers of home furnishings hire home economists to test and demonstrate their wares.

Whatever you do and wherever you go, you will always be making a home for yourself, your family, and friends. You will always be striving to open the door to better living.

LIFE AND HEALTH

AROUND the circle of the world stretches a chain of medical institutions dedicated to the task of healing the sick. We are affected by our modern way of life in many ways and only through a thorough understanding of modern preventative measures can we hope to escape a period in one of these institutions.

The teaching of healthful living is the aim of our Hygiene and Physical Education Department. Every day let us strive for life and health by learning what we can to prevent illness and to improve our general well-being.

A COMPREHENSIVE PROGRAM DEVELOPS WELL-ROUNDED INDIVIDUALS.

ANYONE who knows how to saw wood and pound nails can build a chair—that is, he can turn out a piece of furniture that others would recognize as a "chair." But it takes quite a bit more skill to build a good chair, one that others find not only useful and comfortable, but attractive as well.

Whether it be building a chair, repairing or driving a car, threading a bolt, or sketching a drawing, the people in this department aim to be useful to the community.

We, in Ambridge High School, plan our programs to include courses in all three fields of education, thereby allowing us well-rounded programs which will develop well-rounded individuals.

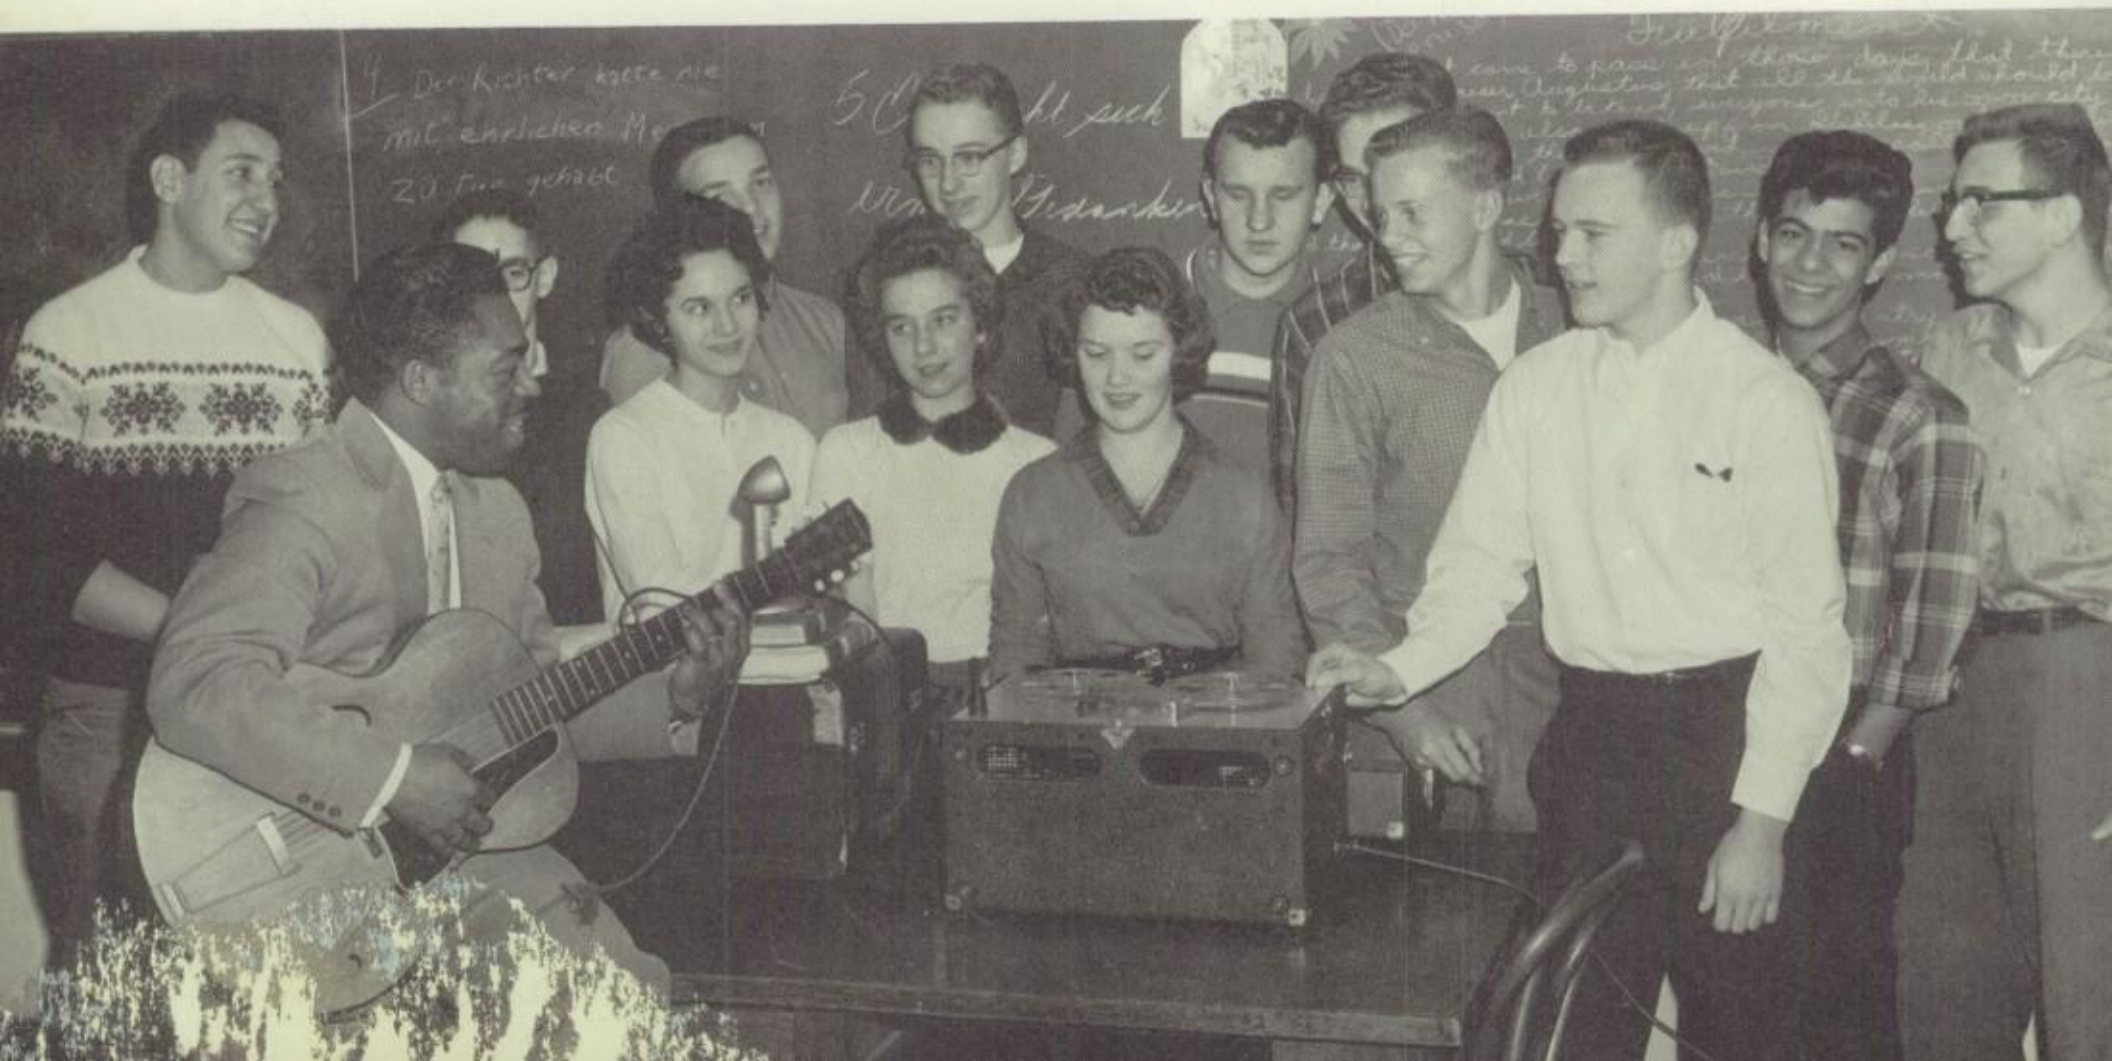
CULTURES OF WARMTH AND BEAUTY.

WANT to be a bi-linguist? You may have heard some wild tales about the impossible translations in Latin, the ridiculous pronunciations in Polish, and the tedious assignments in Spanish and Italian. Well, it isn't quite like that.

Give it a whirl. A foreign language is the key to many adventures in reading and living, traveling, and studying. Now, as the French would say, "Au revoir," or the Spaniards, "Hasta la vista." And don't forget the men from Italy, "Arrivederci." In English it's simply, "So long."

RECENTLY some very beautiful music has been recorded in the German language. Mr. Carter has been able to adapt some of these songs to his teaching procedure.

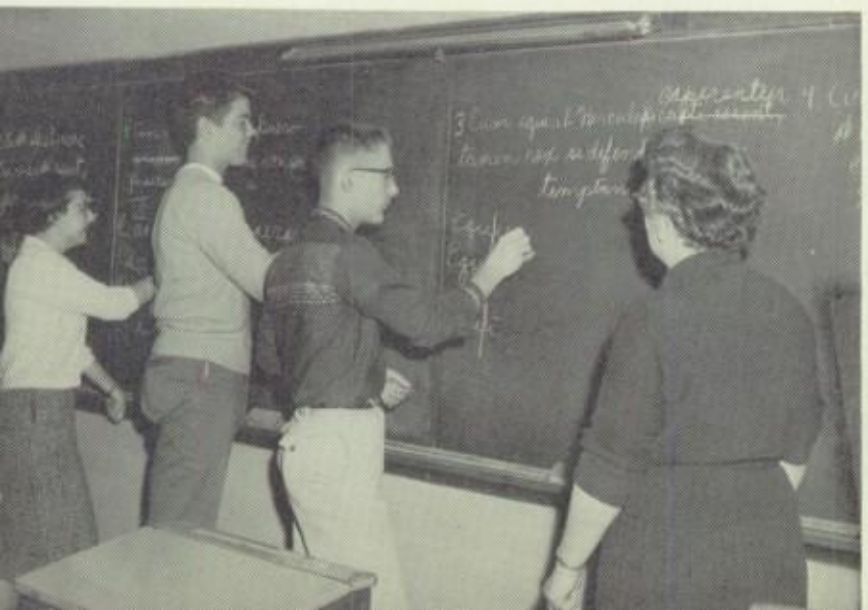


MRS. SHENOT'S boys seem interested in Latin conjugations.

BOARDWORK clears up many misunderstandings in Miss Griffith's Spanish classes.

WHAT does it mean? Only Miss Klimazewski and her Polish students know.

LATIN translations are interesting and under the able instruction of Miss Duffy are really fun.



IF you're planning to travel in South America, be sure you master Spanish.

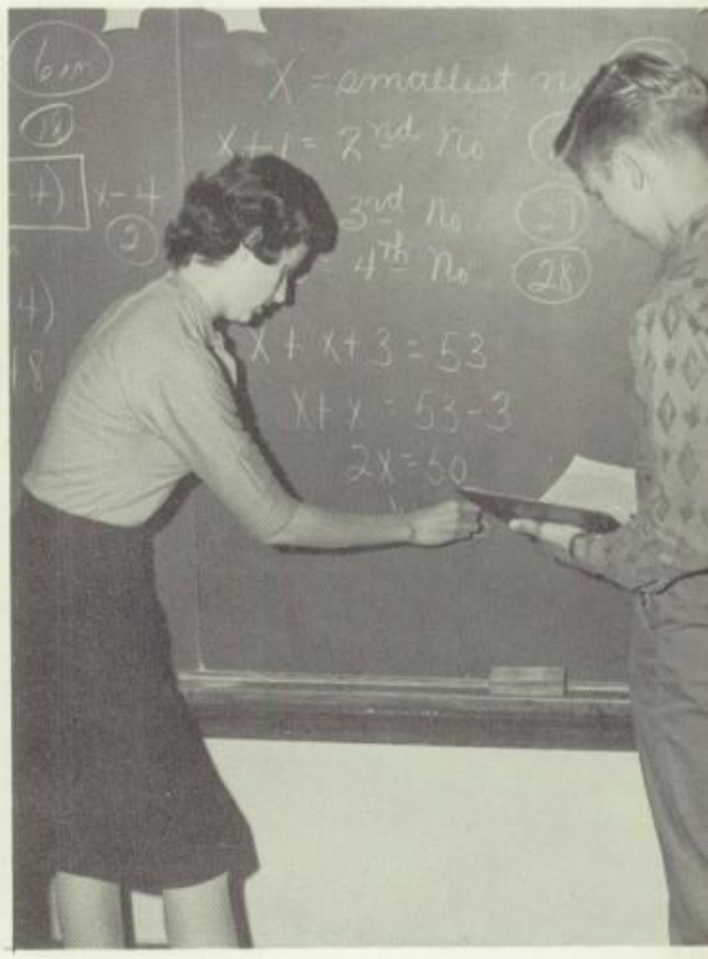
PREPARING FOR THE SPACE AGE.

THE CAREFULLY graded, step by step presentation in our mathematics department overcomes the hazy, confused ideas that many pupils have concerning mathematical values and uses. Consequently, many students have easily adapted themselves to space age math.

Interest in mathematics, along with interest in chemistry and physics, was stepped up with the advent of sputniks and rockets to the moon. Juniors and seniors are finding a real challenge in determining how mathematics can be used to determine the chemistry of rocket fuels, to put satellites into orbit and to keep them there, and to convert atomic energy to peaceful pursuits.



BEGINNERS find algebraic formulas intriguing.

FUTURE engineers learn to use the slide rule under the expert tutelage of Mr. Tedesco.

Library Science

THE LIBRARY IS AN IMPORTANT SCHOOL LABORATORY.

OF WHAT use to you would fine sewing machines and electric mixers in the home economics laboratories be, if you weren't taught how to use them? Of what use to you would electric lathes, saws and drills in the manual arts department be, if you didn't learn how to care for them and use them properly? You might, of course, try this way and that and you might eventually stumble upon the right way of doing things, or at least upon a fairly good way. But in the meantime you would have lost much valuable time and very likely would have spoiled much good material. Things aren't done that way in efficient school libraries; librarians teach you the care and proper use of all laboratory tools and equipment before they let you use them. MADRIGAL SINGING DEMANDING WORK.

ONE of the accomplishments of society back in the days of robust Queen Bess was to be able to participate in madrigals. It was a sign of barbarian upbringing if you couldn't add your voice to the popular after-dinner entertainment. Although our singing groups are more concerned with cultivating music appreciation and voice, rather than pure entertainment, group singing is still considered a great accomplishment. This type of group singing is demanding work.

IF IT BE true that a genius is one who is capable of being possessed by an idea, he is surely a genius. He loves music; so do we all. But this love in him rises to a sort of religious devotion. He loves music so much, and so unselfishly, that he cannot rest until he has made others love it.

Our instrumental department believes that music has a mission, and surely what is most needed is to bring the very best music to those multitudes who need it most.

NEVER BEFORE in history have there been such rapid changes in our way of life. Scientists using the "scientific method" are making new discoveries overnight.

Struggling with the sciences on new frontiers presents a real challenge to the science student. Laboratory periods, lecture classes, and weekly tests are very exacting. IN TIME we may change many, or all, of our legacies of the past; nevertheless, we carry the thread of tradition with us. The record of the human race is a continuous process, a sort of film, unrolling slowly. The same trends appear over and over again, under different conditions.

In our social studies courses we aim to understand these trends and movements, in order that we may better understand the existing order of society today.

Before you were lucky enough to get such a steady girl as you have now, Molly told me almost every problem at the canteen. I told you all my troubles & you told me yours. BEAVER FALLS 25 AMBRIDGE 13

A thrilling battle all the way, but it held a dismal end for Ambridge. A plunge by Malins following a 60 yard drive engineered by Ed Kmit gave us our first tally. The Tigers matched this and scored thrice more. We scored but once more and came out on the short end of the score.

AMBRIDGE 33 SHARON 13

Bouncing back from the Beaver Falls game, the team played a hard and good game and won easily over the Sharon eleven. It was Ed Kmit's night as he scored thrice and played an all-round great game. Antonini and Klages also tallied, the former on a pass play.

AMBRIDGE 21 ELIZABETH 6

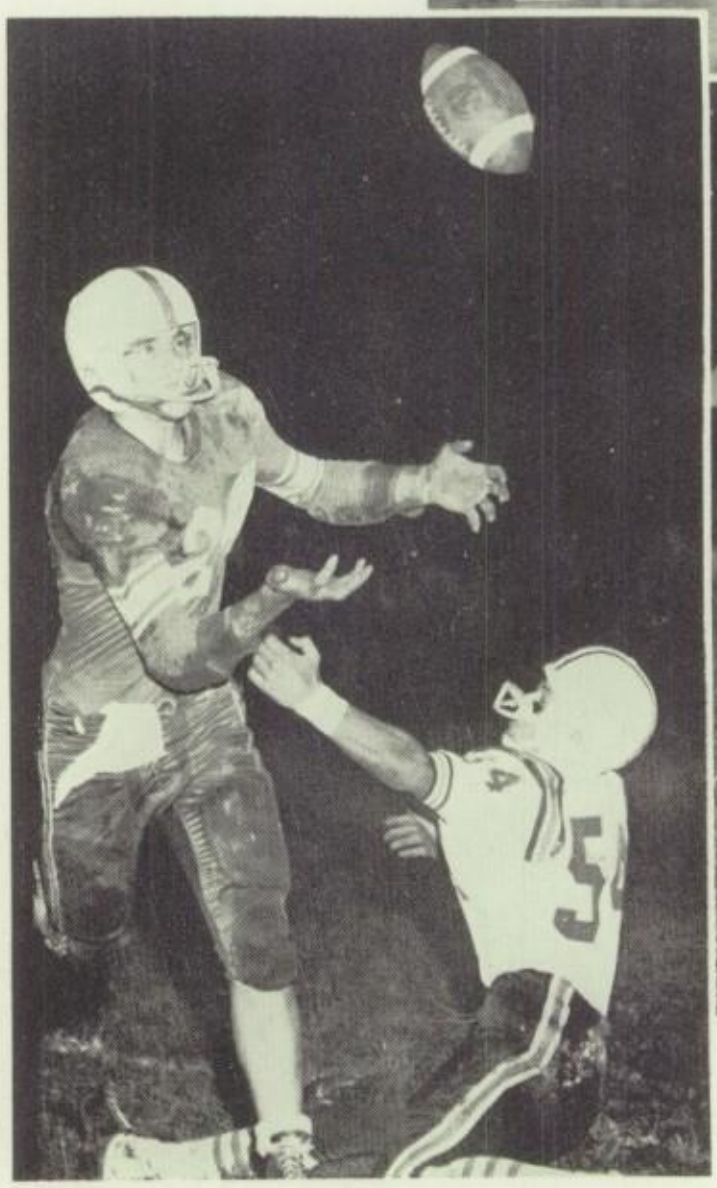
This game was different as it was played in the afternoon, but it didn't matter because we emerged the better team. Good ball-handling, hard playing, and a stout defense contributed to our fifth win of the season.

Football

Indoor practice sessions were sometimes held due to inclement weather.

AMBRIDGE 7 ELWOOD CITY 6
The fired up Ellwood team gave us a bad scare in the fourth quarter, but a blocked conversion try saved the game. An early score by Chapala gave us our only touchdown and Kisiday's extra point provided the necessary margin.

AMBRIDGE 28 BUTLER 7
A great game was played by both teams; although the score doesn't tell the whole story. Deadlocked 7-7 in the fourth quarter, the Bridgers broke it wide open with three more TD's. A good performance by quarterback Ed Kmit had much to do with the victory.



Kmit attempts to intercept but is foiled by the alertness of a Beaver Falls player.

Football

AMBRIDGE 20 FARRELL 14
In this encounter Farrell became the eighth team to fall before our Bridger eleven. An exciting game, with fumbles and penalties occurring frequently, had some anxious moments. Touchdowns by Chapala and Malins took care of our scoring for the night.

AMBRIDGE 12 ALIQUIPPA 7
Played on a cold night, this annual "big game" proved more thrilling than any other. The Quips led 7-0 until the fourth quarter when we scored to make it 7-6. With some three minutes remaining, Ed Kmit hit Klages with a touchdown pass and we were ahead to stay. A stiff defense held the Quips for the remainder of the unforgettable game.

Before the game, sideline instructions are given to Braddick and Panaia by Coach Sebastian.

A great number of fans follow the team to Elwood City.

BEST RECORD SINCE 1955.

THE COACH: Mr. Morris "Moe" Becker. Mr. Becker's debut at Ambridge High was a successful one. He has coached the team to one of its best records in years. For the first time since 1955 the team has won more than three section games. Many hours of practice under his watchful eyes and diligent instructions have made this possible. In the very near future we can expect to see the Bridgers rising to greater heights.

THE TEAM: The Bridgers, coached by Mr. Becker have shown the hustle that truly makes a great team. Paced by Ray Brokos, a three year letter man and one of the best basketball players this school has ever seen, our team fought on even terms with the leaders of the section.

ONE of the highlights of the season was the thriller against Farrell. Another varsity member who unfortunately was sidelined before the Farrell game by an operation is Jim Shields. A two year letter man, Jim carried more than his share of the load before he was sidelined. Other graduating members of the varsity who have seen action this season are Larry Panaia, a letterman last year, and Ron Kudra.

ALL STAR GIRLS' BASKETBALL GAME IS WON BY YALE, 47-39.

THE SLAP, slap of a basketball dribbled down the hardcourt, the ting of the basket cords, then the clarion shout of the spectators were often heard sounds as the Yale team trounced the highly favored Princeton team in their 29th annual contest held in March. Ably supported by an enthusiastic bench, aside from the team effort of the girls, gave Yale their 16th victory.

A SOCIAL SEASON WE WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER.

WEEK-END dances, canteens, banquets, the prom, and special social gatherings sponsored by the various clubs and classes gave us a chance to lay aside our homework for an evening of leisure and fun with our friends.

Kings and Queens were selected for many of our events. Marlene Lang and Fred Fedorko were honored at the Prom. Sharon Crowe was named Miss Quarterback at the Quarterback Banquet.

The Junior-Senior Prom climaxed the school year of social events. Summer formal attire was in order for the boys, and the girls devoted extra attention to their hair, heels, and ballerina length dresses. The anticipated formal event was a memorable night.

SENIOR DRAMA ACCEPTED BY THE STUDENTS WITH ENTHUSIASM

"THE Little Foxes" which was presented Friday, February 24, 1961, by the Senior Class, is a story of the South at the turn of the century. "The Little Foxes" is the story of greedy brothers and a greedy sister who coldly devour the earth, scheming, twisting, driving their way to material success. "The Little Foxes" is a well made play by Miss Hellman. It is a plot that yields excitement, and the literary style is dramatic.

Row 1: Cynthia Bacon, Jean Lagana, Jim Welling, Christine Laris.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY, "INHERIT THE WIND," A GREAT SUCCESS.

"INHERIT The Wind," a play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, was presented by the Junior Class, Friday, November 18, 1960. The events which took place in Daryton, Tennessee during the scorching July of 1925 are clearly the genesis of this play. It is, however, an exodus entirely its own.

First Year of A. C. T.

THE FIRST SEASON OF A. C. T.

AN INNOVATION in the varied schedule of the Ambridge High drama progrgam, the Children's Theatre, has attracted the attention of the younger set in Ambridge. The winter productions of "Simple Simeon," one of childhood's favorite verses, and "The Indian Captive," an exciting story from Pennsylvania's past, entertained an audience while Ambridge High students received valuable experience. The spring attraction, "The Land of the Dragon," a glimpse into a theatre of another land, was conceived by Medge Miller. Here the children's imagination was stimulated as they were asked "not to see" the property man as he set the stage for the drama from ancient China.

TOPS FOR MANY YEARS.

THE YEARBOOK staff publishes no papers of exaggerated claim during the school year. We work hard and our production speaks for itself. Approximately ninety students in grades nine, ten, eleven, and twelve contributed their leisure time to participate in this activity. Every homeroom was represented, and many students with special ability and talent worked many hours at home to provide the features of this publication.

For many years our yearbooks have placed in the top groups throughout the nation. The people judging these contests were not amateurs nor local groups, but journalistic professionals representing all parts of the country.

We are strictly extra-curricular; there aren't any classes in yearbook. A few writers and other personnel assemble once a day to decide on material, identification, and layout. Other work is done outside the school. Other work! Ask anyone who has used his evenings in preparing for this production. I think you'll be amazed at the number of hours involved.

ASSEMBLIES SCHEDULED

MR. Hlista assembled students at times when he deemed it necessary to bolster the spirit or to inform the student body. We believe his efforts establish a happy medium between too many gatherings and none. Emphatically, our assemblies have in no way distracted us from our curricular work.

You Have a Job in "Space"

Maybe you are not one of those who will go adventuring in outer space, but you have an important Space to fill, nevertheless. How usefully you fill it depends on you.

Some of you, in science, may contribute to the world's knowledge. Others, as teachers or writers, may help spread knowledge. Perhaps you will find your greatest usefulness in one of the various forms of business. Or, if you are a girl, you may find it as a wife and mother.

Not all of us can lead glamorous lives or do world-shaking deeds. But all of us can lead useful lives.

Don't be content just to take up Space. Determine to lead such a useful life that the world will be better because of the Space you occupy.

were supposed to be my cousin? Hi, cousin.

And then there was the night we started to go steady and you gave me your ring. That was when I found out how deep my feelings really are for you. I hope I can wear it always.

I guess I have to mention the fights we had, like when I walked away from you. I can't tell you how sorry I am. And also the time I had getting you to trust me (which you should), and remember when I told you about my family problems. I feel much better now that you know.

When I look around my room, all I can see are memories of you, like the silver dollar you gave me, little "hot stuff", our poodle from the Booster dance, and your picture on my dresser. I know in my heart I can never, ever forget you,

For knowing someone one month and one week, exactly, it seems like a lifetime. And I hope it will be. I can't put my feelings down on a piece of paper, but I've done the best I can, and you know how I feel. I wish you a world of happiness and success and love and laughter, and no one could deserve it more. Please don't forget your kitten, and I know I'll never

Reserved

I (we) forget the fun times we've had in school. Like in the mornings when we stand at your locker, and when you walk me to classes, and when I met you after driving and always tell you I almost had a wreck. I'll learn how to drive yet! I'll don't kill myself first, and someday I'll get a car and we can go anywhere we want to.

Remember the Booster Dance on April 21. I had the best time I've ever had at any dance. We doubled with Gloria and Doughton, and that was the first time you ever jumped in public, and you did pretty good even though I did teach you. I know I'll never forget the Drive-in we went to afterwards, and then we went to MacDonald's and ordered eight hamburgers! and I just made it home before my father got in.

How can you ever forget the many times you've been at my house when we played records and talked and etc. That was when I really got to know you, your moods, and a million other things about you. We've had so much fun together, and I hope it lasts a long, long time. And remember the time your came to walk me home

Rewritten

Buddy,

This is to the most wonderful boy I ever met or'll ever hope to meet. It all started on March 21, at 1:30 P.M, at my house (thanks to Angie). I know I'll never forget that night, and I hope you won't either. First we walked to Repine's, and then we came back to my house and played records, talked, and brought out my old guitar. Johnny and you tried to tune it but you weren't very successful. You really were successful with me, though. From then on I knew I'd never forget you. Oh well, so much for March 21, 1961.

I don't know when you came up next, but I do know that since then we've got to know each other very well. Remember the first Canteen after Easter? That was the day I was in Judy's wedding, and I thought you were supposed to call me and I was supposed to call you and I never did make it to the Canteen. I was really sorry I didn't go when I found you were waiting for me. But we made up for it at the other Canteens we went to, and I know there will be lots more. I really had fun those Saturday nights, and I hope you did too.
